First Federal Savings Bank donates to YMCA

The Parkview Huntington YMCA is continuing to work towards their Capital Campaign goal of raising $1.3 million. The primary goal of the capital campaign, titled "Strong Y = Strong Community", is to increase the YMCA's ability to build programs and services by reducing some of the organization's long-term debt, but there will also be a targeted effort to raise funds for new equipment and one or more facility renovation projects.

The YMCA is grateful to First Federal Savings Bank for their gift of $100,000 towards the Capital Campaign. "The support we've received so far is very encouraging, and we are so thankful for the generosity of our donors", says YMCA Executive Director, Ben Davis.

Michael Zahn, president and CEO of First Federal Savings Bank, states, "First Federal Savings Bank is honored to have the opportunity to support Parkview Huntington YMCA's Capital Campaign. Our commitment towards advancing the YMCA's mission in Huntington County spans three generations and reflects our belief that the Y makes our community stronger."
